More clubs go live with Golf Club Network

Telford, 31st August 2010 - During these busy summer months Golf Club Network has launched even more websites for golf clubs across England and Wales.

Developed by Gemini Network Media and endorsed by the English Golf Union and Golf Union of Wales, Golf Club Network is working with clubs throughout the UK to ensure they take full advantage of online marketing opportunities.

Some of the clubs whose new Golf Club Network websites were launched last month include:

- Bury
- Craigmillar Park
- Great Yarmouth & Caister
- Ingon Manor

From initial build to post implementation, all Golf Club Network clients receive unlimited support from our Account Managers, whether it be best practice advice or technical assistance.

By choosing to work with Golf Club Network, these clubs join an ever-growing portfolio of clubs who have stepped up their marketing by creating a professional online presence to meet the needs of members and visitors alike.

Golf Club Network offers a range of design styles to meet the needs of any golf club who wish to market their club to the growing number of golfers searching for their next game online, while streamlining member communications with simple to use email software.
