More clubs go live with Golf Club Network

Telford, 1st December 2010 - As we head further into the winter season more golf clubs across the UK are using the time to upgrade and develop their websites. During November the team team at Golf Club Network have helped seven clubs enhance their online presence by putting live seven news websites.

Developed by Gemini Network Media, Golf Club Network is the only website solution endorsed by the English Golf Union and Golf Union of Wales.

Some of the clubs whose new Golf Club Network websites launched during November include:

- Alnwick Golf Club
- Billingham Golf Club
- Cleobury Mortimer Golf Club
- Holywell Golf Club

From initial build to post implementation, all Golf Club Network clients receive unlimited support from our Account Managers, whether it be best practice advice or technical assistance.

By choosing to work with Golf Club Network, these clubs join an ever-growing portfolio of clubs who have stepped up their marketing by creating a professional online presence to meet the needs of members and visitors alike.

Golf Club Network offers a range of design styles to meet the needs of any golf club who wish to market their club to the growing number of golfers searching for their next game online, while streamlining member communications with simple to use email software.

As the winter season progresses apace isn't it time your club used the time to consider a new website from Golf Club Network.
